INDEPENDENT THINKING BESPOKE SOLUTIONS

INDEPENDENT THINKING

Knox House Trust (KHT) is an independent, privately owned Trust and Corporate Services Provider. As such we operate with no potential, perceived or actual conflicts of interest when working with clients and their advisers. Unlike many other Trust and Corporate Service Providers, KHT has no Private Equity involvement and our intention is for the company to remain in the hands of the current management team for the long term. KHT does not operate with any debt and therefore we are not raising fees to service a debt, which provides clients with the peace of mind that our services are without pressure to sell or to merge.

We are strengthened by our independence as it provides the freedom for us to act in a responsive and agile manner, enabling us to create structures that are truly bespoke to the exact needs of the client.

ENTREPRENEURIAL

KHT developed out of the needs of a successful entrepreneur and as such the company is experienced in dealing with entrepreneurs and their challenging commercial requirements. All relationships are director-led with the director having day to day responsibility for the client's affairs. KHT is part of the dynamic Knox group of companies, that collectively employs over 250 people. The services of the wider group of companies complement the services offered by KHT, and include; wealth planning, investment sourcing and property services, all of which will be attractive to international entrepreneurs. The company also has a particular strength in Family Office management.

ROBUST & COMPREHENSIVE SERVICES

All our services have been crafted by our team of experts to address the complex and sophisticated requirements of individuals who have amassed significant wealth. As an example, we are trustees who understand the complexities, challenges and opportunities of using trusts for property development and the complex affairs of UK Resident Non-Domiciled beneficiaries and settlors. The types of structures we specialise in include Discretionary Trusts, PTCs, Foundations and Partnerships.

NURTURING RELATIONSHIPS

We enjoy strong, successful and long standing relationships with both clients and advisers. Through a dedicated senior point of contact, supported by a strong client services team, our services are all encompassing and discreetly delivered in a cost effective manner. We provide fixed/capped fees that offer transparency and certainty to clients.
